Get to know your oral health

Are you at risk for gum disease? Knowing the answer to this question could help your overall health. That's because research shows an association between gum disease and other health conditions like diabetes, heart disease and stroke. Pregnant women with untreated gum disease may be at an increased risk for delivering preterm and/or low birth weight babies. Think cavities are just for kids? Think again. Many adults have untreated cavities (25% of those 20–44 years, 21% of those 45–64 years and 20% of those 65 years and older).¹ And tooth decay (cavities) is the single most common chronic childhood disease – four times more common than asthma.²

Assess your risks

The Periodontal (gum) Disease and Cavity Risk Assessment Tools are designed to help you and your dentist identify factors that might increase your risks for gum disease and cavities. The quizzes are quick and easy. The Periodontal Disease Risk Assessment is just 20 questions. The Cavity Risk Assessment is just 12 questions for adults and 16 questions for children under age 12. And when you complete the quizzes, you'll get detailed score sheets that tell you whether you are low risk, low to moderate, moderate risk or high risk for gum disease or tooth decay, depending on which quiz you've taken. Take the quizzes today and share the results with your dentist at your next dental check-up.

Please note that these tools serve as guidelines to assess your risks for cavities and gum disease. It's important to visit your dentist on a regular basis to discuss your oral health.

Prevention is key

Regular dental visits may do more than brighten your smile. Research shows receiving regular dental care often catches minor problems before they become major and expensive to treat. Practice prevention and take advantage of your plan's preventive care services; certain services may be covered at low cost or no cost to you when you visit a network dentist. Covered services³ may include, but are not limited to:

- Oral exams
- Cleanings
- Fluoride treatments
- X-rays
- Oral cancer screenings
